Welcome to Brimfield!

Join the many collectors, dealers, designers, decorators, and “home curators” who scour the 19 show fields at Brimfield Antique Shows for the items from the past that draw their interest. Whether you are seeking antique, vintage, historic, or one-of-a-kind finds that come with fascinating tales, you have come to the right place.

Brimfield can be overwhelming for new visitors, and this Guide highlights the how’s, where’s, and when’s to find what you are searching for.

- Show Schedule: Page 3 – Turn to page 3 to see a list of the fields that line this stretch of Route 20, when they open and close, and how to reach the show field managers/owners.

- Map of Showfields: Page 5 – Take a few minutes to explore the area map. Learn where the parking is located and where ATMs can be found. (FYI, cash is the payment of choice for most dealers in the fields.)

- Showfield and Buying Info: Page 7 – This is where you will find all kinds of information about the amenities offered at different fields, including food trucks, Opening Day admissions for some locations, and pet policies, along with helpful hints on how to shop this plethora of picks set out by the thousands of dealers throughout the show.

Want more? Read the advertisements for more information on this show, the region, antique and vintage shops, upcoming shows, and more. Visit our website (journalofantiques.com) and Facebook pages for more insights, and monitor our Instagram page (@journalofantiques) to get a real feel for what is happening at the Brimfield Shows. Then, return in July and September for more excitement and fresh finds in the fields.

Happy hunting and collecting!

Handled by Dealers –

Restrooms:

Every showfield has porta-potties and wash stations.

Types of Antiques/Vintage Goods:

Each dealer buys and sells the types of goods they specialize in with some special finds and good stories. Have something in mind you hope to find? Ask the dealer. Usually there are more boxes of items still to be unpacked and displayed or a dealer has nearby access to their inventory. If they don't have it, or don't deal in that type of antique, ask if they know someone who does.

How To Pay

Cash is king, as they say, but many dealers will accept credit/debit cards, Venmo, PayPal, ApplePay, and more. ATMs are available at some fields. Dealers will likely hold what you wish to purchase while you get money or retrieve your checkbook. Many take checks if they are local and have your contact information.

Return Policies

Most of the time during a show like this it is a matter of buying "as is, where is" and no returns are allowed. However, if you are making a larger purchase, be sure to talk with the dealer about their return policy and how that would be handled.

Buying After the Show

If you spot something you really like but are not ready to make a purchase, ask for the dealer's information and about the chance to purchase later if you change your mind. You may wish to take a picture of the item to refer to later.

Delivery

If you are visiting from far away, you may want to get your purchases delivered. It is not up to the Dealer to manage that, but some may. Otherwise, you can reach out to area offices for FedEx, UPS, USPS, etc. to see what they are offering for Brimfield Shows – some have on-site pickup.

Old is the New Green

Embracing Sustainability Through Antiques, Vintage Upcycling, & Brimfield Finds

In today's fast-paced, fast-fashion, fast-everything world, there's a quiet revolution gaining momentum—one rooted in history, craftsmanship, and sustainability. It's the art of upcycling and repurposing antiques and vintage goods. Whether giving new life to a forgotten piece of furniture, reimagining a vintage outfit, or turning flea market finds into statement décor, this movement isn't just stylish—it's deeply sustainable and surprisingly affordable.

And there's no better place to begin this journey—or deepen it—than at the Brimfield Antiques Market. Spanning over 20 fields and drawing vendors and vintage lovers from across the country, Brimfield is the mecca for those looking to rescue, reinvent, and fall in love with the past all over again.

Why Vintage Matters in a Sustainable Future

Every time we choose a vintage or antique item over something new, we reduce our carbon footprint. Manufacturing modern goods—especially furniture and fashion—requires extensive resources and energy, often contributing to pollution and waste.

Conversely, antique and vintage items already exist. They've stood the test of time, frequently crafted with better materials and more durable construction than their modern counterparts.

The Charm of Imperfection and Individuality

Upcycling isn't about perfection—it's about imagination. A distressed cabinet might become a statement bathroom vanity. A mid-century armchair with a worn seat gets a bold new life with fresh fabric. A 1960s shift dress can be altered or styled into something modern and effortlessly chic.

Brimfield offers endless inspiration for such projects. It's where you'll discover chipped enamelware perfect for a rustic kitchen shelf, or a trunk full of vintage scarves ready to be reimagined into fashion-forward pieces. The possibilities are as limitless as your creativity.

Affordable Luxury, One Piece at a Time

There's a common misconception that antiques or vintage goods are expensive or inaccessible. The reality? Many upcyclers and vintage enthusiasts find their treasures at places like Brimfield—where variety, volume, and vendor knowledge make it a buyer's paradise.

In fact, for the price of one mass-produced piece of furniture from a big-box store, you could curate an entire vintage vignette—coffee table, lamp, mirror, and all—that's both timeless and sustainable.

And when it comes to fashion, Brimfield excels. From vintage denim and retro band tees to boho dresses and '50s accessories, the market showcases vintage fashion that's as affordable as it is authentic.

A Growing Community of Creators and Collectors

The joy of upcycling and repurposing isn't limited to designers or seasoned collectors. Across social media, everyday people are sharing their before-and-afters, DIY tutorials, and thrift flips—encouraging a new generation to engage with the past creatively and sustainably.

Many of these stories begin—or evolve—at Brimfield. The event's energetic atmosphere, wide selection, and sense of community spark countless creative endeavors. Local artisans and upcyclers often showcase their repurposed pieces here, while new hobbyists gather ideas and tips from seasoned sellers.

Bringing the Past Into the Present

When we decorate with vintage or wear an antique piece, we're not just making a style statement—we're carrying forward traditions, craftsmanship, and a reverence for the past. A home adorned with antique frames, vintage lighting, or a repurposed farmhouse table tells a richer story. A wardrobe with upcycled denim, reworked vintage jewelry, or a perfectly worn leather jacket is both eco-conscious and fashion-forward.

At Brimfield, the past is palpably present. Whether you're browsing for furniture refinishing projects, looking for wearable vintage fashion, or scouting materials for your next restoration, the market provides tangible links between history and today's creative spirit.

Getting Started: Tips for Conscious Upcycling

If you're inspired to begin your upcycling journey, here are a few simple tips:

- Start Small: Begin with one item—a piece of clothing, a chair, a mirror—and find a way to give it new life.
- Learn Basic Skills: Sewing, refinishing, or basic upholstery can open up endless possibilities.
- Shop with an Open Mind: Look past the wear or outdated finishes. Imagine what could be, not just what is.

- Mix and Match: Don't be afraid to combine eras or styles. Vintage plays beautifully with modern design.

- Visit Brimfield Often: With three shows a year and thousands of dealers, you'll never have the same experience twice. It's the perfect playground for upcyclers and vintage visionaries alike.

Final Thoughts

Upcycling and repurposing antique and vintage pieces is more than a trend—it's a lifestyle rooted in sustainability, creativity, and appreciation for what's come before. It allows us to slow down, be resourceful, and find beauty in imperfection.

So, whether you're redecorating your space, refreshing your closet, or simply browsing the booths at Brimfield Antiques Market, remember: every old item has the potential for a new beginning—and you have the power to bring it to life.

Embracing the Future with The Journal of Antiques & Collectibles

A New Era for Collectors and Enthusiasts

The world of antiques is a treasure trove of history, mystery, and craftsmanship—but what if discovering and living with those treasures became even more exciting, immersive, and accessible? That’s exactly what’s happening at The Journal of Antiques & Collectibles as we usher in a bold new chapter in our journey. With an invigorated online presence and a lineup of powerful new tools and features, we’re inviting readers like you to explore the antique world in ways you never imagined.

Whether you’re a seasoned collector, a vintage stylist, or just dipping your toes into the world of heirlooms and history, there’s something here for you. Gone are the days of only flipping pages and hoping to stumble upon something nearby. Today, we’re putting the entire antique ecosystem at your fingertips—expert insights, trusted resources, vibrant communities, and shopping experiences tailored to your unique style and curiosities.

So, what’s new? A lot. And it all begins July 1st, when our revitalized digital platform officially opens its virtual doors to a new generation of enthusiasts.

Explore What’s Possible

Let’s start with the tools. These aren’t just updates—they’re transformations that promise to elevate your collecting experience:

- Updated Shop Finder: More than just a directory, our new Shop Finder is a personalized, searchable experience that makes finding your next favorite shop a breeze. Looking for vintage lighting in New England? Or early Americana in the Southwest? Filter by specialty, region, and online shopping options to plan your perfect antiquing adventure or shop from home.

- Vintage Lifestyle Features: Think of this as your go-to guide to living vintage every day. Whether it’s decorating with found objects, entertaining with style, or thrifting with intention, our Antique and Vintage Living section is packed with inspiration that speaks to your love of the past and your passion for creativity.

- Expert Voices and Advice: Imagine getting direct advice from the country’s top antique pros—on how to spot a fake, refinish a wood surface, or preserve delicate fabrics. Now imagine all that available in videos, blog posts, and downloadable guides, curated just for you. Our network of specialists is here to educate, inspire, and empower.

From Display to Everyday

Here’s the real magic: antiques aren’t just things to look at—they’re things to live with. And now, we’re showing you how. Our new content series will take you inside the homes of collectors, into the studios of restorers, and behind the scenes at markets and shows, revealing how vintage pieces can bring charm, sustainability, and timeless beauty to modern living.

You’ll learn how to:

- Style a space around a salvaged mantelpiece
- Create table-scapes with vintage glassware

- Mix vintage clothing into your wardrobe for a one-of-a-kind look

- Breathe new life into worn treasures through thoughtful restoration

We will be bringing you seasonal style tips, DIY upcycling ideas, before-and-after transformations, and so much more. It's not just about the past—it's about how these objects can shape your lifestyle today.

What's Coming Next

And the adventure doesn't stop there. As our platform continues to grow, even more opportunities are on the horizon to connect, collect, and create. Get ready for:

- Online Auction Calendar: Ever missed out on an auction because you didn't know it was happening? Never again. Our interactive auction calendar gives you previews, sale dates, and results all in one place—so you can track what's hot, what's coming up, and what pieces you might want to chase next.

- Integrated Online Marketplace Access: We're creating a dedicated section that connects you directly with the digital heart of the antique and vintage community. This new feature will offer curated links to online shops—like Etsy storefronts—alongside brick-and-mortar stores that offer nationwide shipping. You'll also find access to trusted online auction platforms, plus a schedule of upcoming live-streamed shows hosted on Instagram and Facebook. Whether you're browsing, bidding, or buying, this hub will make it easy to discover and support local sellers from wherever you are.

- Enhanced Museum and Exhibit Access: You know that buzz you get walking through a perfectly curated museum exhibit? We're making that easier to access, with our updated exhibit guide, you can explore antique-themed programming at museums across the U.S., discover new must-see collections, and even plan your travel around them.

- New Resource Directory: Ever wished you had a go-to expert for restoration or appraisal? Now you do. Our curated Resource Directory connects you with top-notch professionals in appraising, estate sales, authentication, restoration, and more. It's like having an expert in your back pocket—because confidence makes all the difference when it comes to treasured finds.

- Community Stories and Challenges: Here's where you come in. Share your favorite finds, submit your restoration projects, enter photo contests, and engage with collectors just like you. We'll spotlight standout stories across our site and social channels, creating a community built on shared passion, creativity, and connection.

A Living Legacy

This is more than just a website update. It's a movement. A digital evolution that's designed not only to preserve the antique community—but to propel it forward, to spark curiosity, and to invite a new generation into the fold.

We're not just reimagining how you access antique content—we're reimagining how you experience it. Everything from the way you discover a piece to how you learn about it, buy it, and bring it into your life is now more streamlined, inspired, and interactive.

Whether you're a lifelong collector, a dealer building your brand, or someone discovering the thrill of vintage for the first time, The Journal of Antiques is your companion in this exciting journey.

So, open your browser, roll up your sleeves, and let's dig into the past—together. Because antiques aren't just what we collect. They're how we live.

And now, you can live that passion—every day.
